

Important News About Your Quicken- Online Account.

Access to Quicken Online will end August 29, 2010--sign up for Mint.com now

Intuit, the owner of Quicken®, has collaborated with Mint.com to combine the best features of both into a single online personal finance solution – Mint.com. With the improved Mint.com you can enjoy everything you loved about Quicken Online, plus added benefits such as connecting to over 16,000 financial institutions, including Canadian banks – as well as tracking your investment and retirement accounts. There is also a new Goals feature that takes the tool you enjoyed in Quicken Online to the next level.

As a result of these changes, Quicken Online will no longer be available as of August 29, 2010. Creating a new Mint.com account is easy, but for reasons of security and accuracy, we cannot create one for you. Once signed in, you can add your accounts and see your financial picture in just a few minutes.

If maintaining a record of your Quicken Online data is important to you, you can export it to a CSV file.

ADVANTAGES OF MINT.COM

- IMPROVED! See all your financial information – banks, credit cards and investment accounts – in one location.
- NEW! Connect with 16,000 U.S. financial institutions to automatically pull up-to-date balances and purchase data.
- IMPROVED! Automatically categorizes all your transactions to track spending.
- NEW! Create customized plans to build savings and pay down debt.

To learn more click here.